

The land knows you,
even when you are lost.
- Robin Wall Kimmerer

"I dream of a world guided by a lens of stories rooted in the revelations of science and framed with an indigenous worldview – stories in which matter and spirit are both given voice."

- Robin Wall Kimmerer.

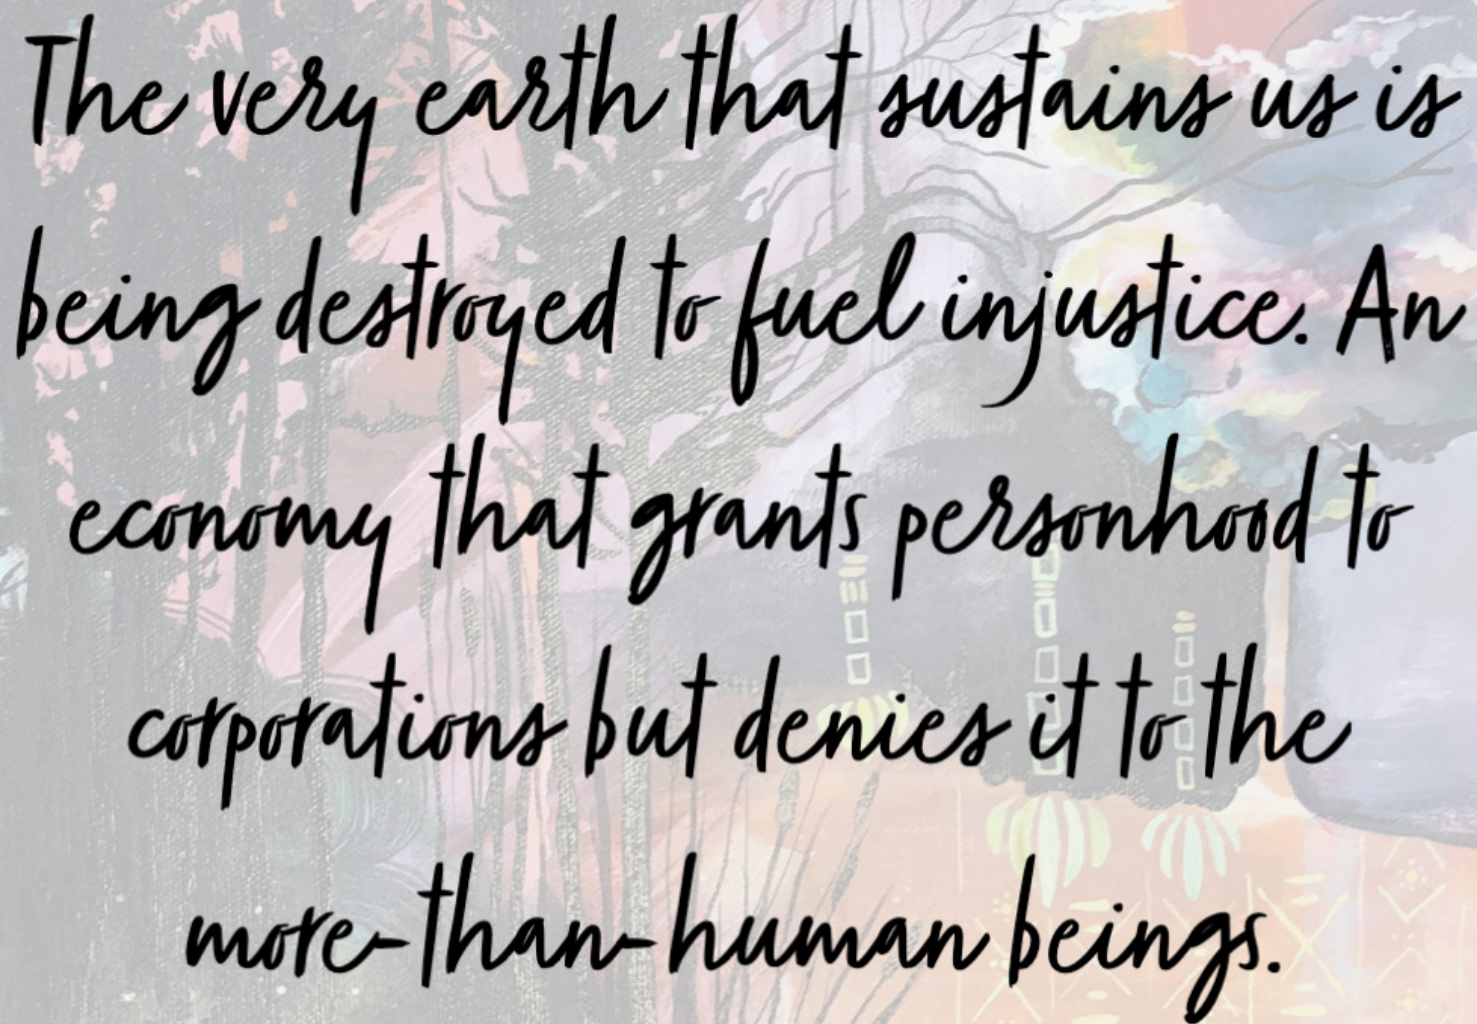

All powers have two sides, the power to create and the power to destroy. We must recognize them both, but invest our gifts on the side of creation.

A vibrant, abstract painting of a bird perched on a branch, surrounded by colorful, swirling patterns and flowers. The bird is the central focus, rendered in shades of blue and black. The background is a rich tapestry of colors, including deep blues, greens, and purples, with intricate, swirling patterns that suggest a natural, perhaps underwater or forest, environment. The overall style is expressive and textured, with visible brushstrokes and a sense of movement.

The land is the real teacher.
All we need as students is mindfulness.
- Robin Wall Kimmerer

The very earth that sustains us is being destroyed to fuel injustice. An economy that grants personhood to corporations but denies it to the more-than-human beings.

- Robin Wall Kimmerer

"To love a place is not enough.

We must find ways to heal it."
